OVERVIEW

Jason Reed focuses his legal practice on corporate trustee representation, issues relating to corporate trust litigation, and bankruptcy concerns. His varied bankruptcy practice includes representation of both secured and unsecured creditors as well as representation of creditors' committees, in addition to defending financial and banking related litigation. Outside of bankruptcy Jason's practice includes restructuring of municipal projects, including senior housing, long-term care facilities, and hospitals. Other areas of specialization include commercial financing transactions such as commercial lending and asset-based lending. Prior to joining Maslon, Jason clerked for the Honorable Robert Littlefield, Jr. at the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of New York.

Jason holds a bachelor's degree in integrative physiology from the University of Colorado and earned his law degree, magna cum laude, from the University of Minnesota Law School. During law school, Jason served as lead managing editor of the Journal of Law and Inequality and was the recipient of the Kent Wennerstrom Award – Outstanding Student Director 2012-2013. After graduation, Jason taught the University of Minnesota Law School's Civil Practice Clinic course throughout the 2016-2017 academic year.
