OVERVIEW

Judah Druck represents policyholders and commercial entities in insurance coverage and complex business disputes. His experience spans multiple industries and forums, ranging from representing Fortune 500 companies in federal appeals, to representing business policyholders and medical device manufacturers in federal and state courts, to litigating putative class actions under the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act (RICO). Judah also maintains an active pro bono practice, including seeking orders for protection with The Tubman Pro Bono Safety Project and applications for asylum with The Advocates for Human Rights. In his spare time, Judah enjoys writing and has recently been published in the MSBA's Bench & Bar of Minnesota and HCBA's Hennepin Lawyer magazines. Before joining Maslon, Judah practiced at the New York office of Sullivan & Cromwell LLP.

Judah is a cum laude graduate of Cornell Law School, where he served as an editor on the Cornell Law Review and a managing editor of the Legal Information Institute Supreme Court Bulletin. He earned his bachelor's degree, magna cum laude, from Brandeis University in Waltham, Massachusetts.
