OVERVIEW

Sarah Shuler Keane is an experienced trust and estate attorney with a passion for guiding families through the intricate process of creating estate plans, administering trusts, and navigating probate. She excels in crafting detailed legal documents with meticulous precision, and her keen understanding of family dynamics guides her in handling the sensitive issues that often arise in estate work.

Clients appreciate Sarah's ability to make the estate planning process understandable with straightforward and plain language. Her goal is to serve as a catalyst for families to plan for the future and to provide clarity and compassionate guidance through the estate planning process.

Sarah earned her J.D. at the University of California, Davis, School of Law, and her B.A. in cultural anthropology and history from UC Davis.
