OVERVIEW

Clark Whitmore's practice focuses on the representation of corporate trustees in capacities related to TIA-qualified senior and subordinated corporate debt issuances, collateralized debt obligations, revenue bonds and certificates of participation on tax exempt public finance projects, and various asset-backed structured financings. His practice includes counseling corporate trustees with respect to the administration of their duties at every stage, including post-Event of Default "prudent person" duties in Chapter 11 and Chapter 9 insolvency proceedings. Together with Maslon's litigation team, he counsels corporate trustees regarding claims and litigation brought by or against them in their trustee capacities. His practice includes steps to modify, terminate, and seek judicial instructions relating to the administration of corporate trusts.

SELECTED EXPERIENCE
